Costa del Sol, Atalaya

This spacious 3-bedroom, 3-bathroom townhouse in the sought-after area of Atalaya offers excellent potential as an investment. With its open views and a charming neighborhood feel, this property combines privacy with a welcoming community of just 16 homes. The townhouse features a generous layout, including both front and back gardens, and an underground garage with space for two cars. Although it could use some updating, the home's size and location make it an appealing choice. Low maintenance fees add to its attractiveness, making it an ideal property for those seeking a solid investment or a spacious family home.
